

Eliana Greco

Duplicity

Acrylic on Canvas

The piece of art I created depicts the theme of this contest. My painting expresses the idea that not everything is as it seems. This past year for me truly demonstrated that social media deceives us. What you get shown online is not reality. Unrealistic expectations and standards have been brought onto us, more so in this pandemic in order to have that picture perfect life, not showing what's really behind the camera.