Arrhythmia

Mixed Media on Paper

I think this piece conveys how I felt about living during the pandemic. Although school was more lax, I had a completely new set of teachers and we didn't get along. I ended up becoming somewhat lost and being in my room all the time, I lost my sense of reality sometimes. The piece is meant to show how easy it was to get stressed and lose your sense of self. It takes a lot of inspiration from "weirdcore" and it can fit in a surreal horror genre perhaps.
