

Grace Davis

Grace Davis's artwork is characterized by her mastery of abstraction across a variety of mediums, including paintings in acrylic and gouache, drawings, and polymer clay jewelry. At the core of Davis's creative process is her fascination with abstract botanicals and the way in which color and form can be used to express the movement and life force of these objects. Through her vibrant, dynamic colors and free-flowing shapes, Davis's art offers viewers a unique perspective on the natural and built world surrounding us. Her work invites us to pause and reflect, to see the beauty in the abstract and the hidden patterns that underlie our everyday experience. Davis's abstract drawings and paintings are a testament to the power of art to inspire and transform, encouraging us to look more closely at the world around us and discover new dimensions of beauty and meaning.

Grace Davis is a multimedia artist and educator currently residing in Reno, Nevada. She received a BFA from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago and an MA with an emphasis on Teaching and Learning in Art and Design from the Rhode Island School of Design.

Quote

“The sky is so expansive out in this landscape it's easy to miss the small flowers and plants surviving on the desert floor, next to the river, or in a scree field along a hike. It's these little pops of color, the captivating textures, and shapes that have me in awe of the Great Basin and inspire my work.” -
